"LOYALTY"

"In this period of constant change, of uneasiness, of all the unaccustomed occurrences caused by all-out effort in an all-out war, I believe it is not sentiment, not conceit, but good common sense for a business man to look backward at the years that have passed to try to find a common denominator with the years of the future.

"In my own case, I consider I have found this common denominator to use as a guide for the future and I can express it in one word: LOYALTY.

LOYALTY To My God And To My Country

LOYALTY To My Family And To My Friends

LOYALTY To My Industry And To My Business Associates

LOYALTY To All My Fellow Human Beings

"On the moral level everyone will agree that Loyalty is a virtue that should be practised for its own sake. On the practical level business men may question, 'Does loyalty pay?'

"My own experience leaves no doubt of the answer—EMPHATICALLY YES!

"Such success as I have enjoyed, the building pictured here which many have acclaimed the most beautiful automatic music showroom in the country, the contributions I have been able to make to worthy causes, the War Bonds I have been privileged to buy, etc., etc., are all the result of my years of association with Wurlitzer—my loyalty to them —AND their loyalty to me—as their first distributor of coin operated phonographs.

"My purpose in making this statement is to put into words what I know many of my friends in this closely knit industry feel—an abiding faith in the future of a great industry in this greatest country in the world—based on more than merely dollar and cents values."

QUARTER-YEARLY REVIEW

These are the leading causes that were sponsored by The Cash Box during the first quarter of '43:

Proposal for a phono record armistice. A meeting with James C. Petrillo, president of AFM, to make arrangements for continued recording for the coin operated music industry.

Pay 30% commission to locations. Operating overhead has increased t least 20% and with wages going ever higher, with labor a serious roblem, with loss of a certain portion of the 300,000 retail establishments xpected to close this year, the one best insurance the operator has is to apidly arrange for 30% commission to the average location and thereby rotect himself and at the same time accumulate a proper reserve for the ost-war era.

Help Uncle Sam get approximately $5,000,000. from the 50,000 or ) counter games that are now gathering dust instead of revenue by buying ie $100. license and arranging with the location that the first $100. to ome out of the machine pay for the license and the regular percentage rrangement to go into effect only when the license has been paid. In this ay a great many coinmen are going to find a new method for payment f all licenses generally and also find operating counter games profitable ven with the $100. license now in effect.

A National Board of Trade for the coin machines industry by arranging ie country into sections with directors from each section to make up the lational Board of Trade and thereby have a representative group for the ien in this industry to meet with officials and organizations, to handle pro- notion and publicity, to watch over all the interests of the industry. The eed for a National Board of Trade grows greater each day. Many have ritten The Cash Box acclaiming this suggestion and asking that action e taken on it immediately.

Control of juvenile delinquency was completely discussed in our March 23 ssue and the trade advised that because of this growing national problem that t protect itself by arranging that no minors play any of the machines, specially slots, consoles and other equipment in this category.

Financing charities was discussed in our past (March 30) issue. This s one of the best actions that can be taken at this time by all coinmen nd their associations to gain the sort of good will from the public that s necessary for the preservation and continued well being of all the trade. (And this again shows the need for a National Board of Trade to publicize such action.)

KEEP GOOD WILL

One of the very best speeches of this war period was that of I. A. Hirschmann of Bloomingdale Brothers before the War Council of the Associated Chain Drug Stores at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel (Mar. 16) wherein he warned against pushing customers around and misrepresentation of merchandise quality during this period when sales are a lot easier. "Customers' good will should not be sold short," Mr. Hirschmann stated and said, "a retailer does not have to be a merchant to be in business today, but he will have to be a merchant to remain in business tomorrow."

We recommend that everyone of our readers clip this statement and paste it where they can see it at all times. The very fact that sales are a lot easier today, that bigger averages than ever before are being enjoyed, does not mean that the coinman can relax for a moment giving his customers the kind of service they expect to receive.

Those jobbers, distributors and manufacturers who believe that all they will have to do to get back into swing again is simply obtain a new machine and yell, "Come and get it," are going to be in for a lot of surprises when this war is over. A great many new and surprisingly different developments are under way. Mistreatment of customers today—will mean much pioneering work all over again—tomorrow.

The industry may change completely. It may change in methods of operating, sales and manufacture, but, the basic backbone will still be there. Those men who are doing everything they possibly can to remain in business today—are the backbone of this industry. Those leaders who have recognized this fact and have worked carefully and cooperatively with these men will be the ones to benefit when this war is over.

The same is true for every operator. By abusing location owners now and curtly advising them what they can and cannot get, means a sure stop lost tomorrow when competition comes back, and we believe, will come back stronger than it ever was before. From every standpoint the trade should today maintain the same sort of high type service and better business practise to insure itself for tomorrow.

Discussing advertising, Mr. Hirschmann urged the chain drug retailers not to discontinue promotion despite the fact that business is easy to get at this time. "Continue to promote even when you get to the point where you have no merchandise to sell," he said. "Keep your contact with your customers, keep your name before the people."

We are in complete agreement with Mr. Hirschmann. As far as the coin machines industry is concerned those men who will first and best benefit from the tremendous volume of post-war business that is already accruing will be the men who had the proper understanding of how to merchandise, how to promote, how to advertise, during a time when they had very little or no merchandise to sell—but still could sell good will, friendship, cooperation and a promise of better things for the future.

PETRILLO LEAVES WAY OPEN

You've probably read that Petrillo and his executive board of AFM have decided to keep up the ban on new recordings. This was expected. It was also expected that Petrillo would leave the way open for further negotiation. He did. Declaring that the next move to end the ban was up to the record manufacturers, he told them, "There is nothing further we can present until you are prepared to submit in good faith constructive proposals for the solution of this tragic problem." And that's that. You music men are right back where you started from over seven months ago. How much longer this ban will continue is entirely up to yourselves. The best suggestion that can be made at this time is for the music leaders (who are among the subscribers to The Cash Box) to get together with all the music men in their territory, talk over how far they'll go, obtain whatever ideas each may have about a solution and let's call a War Council meeting—quietly—and present our plans for the consideration of the whole. Such a meeting can be arranged thru The Cash Box. We can spend two or three days, if necessary, discussing the problem, offering suggestions, making plans and then decide on what action should be taken. DO YOU WANT SUCH A MEET?

THE CONFIDENTIAL PRICE LISTS

Since its inception subscribers of The Cash Box have been making recommendations for improving its various features. We are extremely proud and at the same time tremendously and humbly grateful for this marvelous display of interest in The Cash Box. Not a week goes by but what we receive anywhere from five to fifty letters with suggestions. Many of these have been adopted.

Some letters refer to The Confidential Price Lists, commenting on the wide divergence in the high and low prices of certain equipment. As reporters we can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. We realize, many times, when we see extremely low and just as extremely high prices for one certain machine, that they are going to seem out of line to our readers. Yet, there they are. The Confidential Price Lists can only report them as would the Stock Exchange, by posting them on the board. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price for the week, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the trade at least have the last known quoted prices as a basis for doing business.

We realize, too, that when it comes to slots and consoles, prices are going to be widely divergent these days. Someone in Los Angeles may feel that the Blue Front he has is worth $150. and someone in Philadelphia may believe it only worth $75. Of course, condition, serial number, appearance, demand, territory, etc., must all be taken into consideration. We cannot do anything else but report each quotation and depend on the trade for average price adjustment best suited to their own territorial peculiarities.

HONORABLE MENTION

Honorable Mention Awards this week go to:

Morris Hankin of Hankin Music Company, Atlanta, Ga., for his great work in behalf of outstanding charitable causes, reflecting much credit upon the industry.

David S. Bond of Trimont Coin Machine Company, Boston, Mass., for opening such beautiful, new showrooms and offices, giving encouragement and helping to build up morale of the industry. Not only is this a daring, but in our estimation, a far-sighted move.

Homer E. Capehart of Packard Manufacturing Corp., Indianapolis, Ind., for having won the Army and Navy "E" for his firm, thereby reflecting much credit and honor upon all the industry.

LOCKS & KEYS

We have been in receipt of a number of letters from subscribers recommending that we once again call attention to the trade that when shipping a machine these days to be sure to check the lock and key. These are becoming scarce and expensive. When the wrong key is enclosed for the lock, there is not only delay in getting the machine out on location, but, many times the lock has to be broken, and this is absolute waste—unpatriotic in every sense.

C.R.R.

We believe that this week's (Spring Special) issue of The Confidential Record Report strikes an entirely new note. We hope that many more will now adopt the suggestion made by The Cash Box months ago to obtain factory locations. This issue can be used to solicit such locations.

QUARTER-YEARLY MARKET REPORT

[Spring, 1943]

FOREWORD

The coin machines market is an entire changed unit. Whereas operators, jobbers and distributors, just three months ago, were still anxious to hurriedly rid themselves of certain types of equipment in the belief that they would get caught short, they are today just as eager to retain what they have and aren't too anxious to dispose of the better machines.

Hoarding still continues. But hoarding of equipment hasn't influenced the price situation. By releasing much of the hoarded equipment it might ease operating conditions for some thruout the country. Generally it would have little effect on lowering present prices.

The hope of the trade that gas and tire rationing would bring equipment to the market from outlying, hard-to-service spots, and that these would somehow balance the inflationary price rise failed to materialize. Simply, because as such equipment reached the market, other territory opened to rapidly absorb it, and therefore before it could have any effect on lowering prices, it had disappeared. The belief that the Eastern pleasure driving ban would also help to bring outlying equipment to the market to help halt the inflationary price rise was also short lived.

The resultant fact is that whatever equipment is now available is being bidded for at sky-high figures and therefore the trade must simply stick together and cooperate with each other, otherwise it will force itself into an even worse inflationary price condition. There must continue to be buying, selling, trading and general exchange for this or any other industry, to continue as an active and profitable business.

ARCADE

Arcade equipment continues to lead in demand. This division of the industry has won a unique place for itself. Tho the shortage of this equipment is acute, as far as creating new arcades is concerned, yet there is enough equipment around to take care of the need for changes in the present arcades. The big problem of taxes in this field may yet bring some very fine equipment to the market. This field has won national prominence because of its growth. Never before, in all its years combined, have there been as many arcades in existence in this nation. This is one field that promises to continue profitable and popular for the duration. It has most definitely established itself as one of the leading divisions of the coin machines industry. It also gives promise of developing a new type of operation for the post-war era. It may yet be seen, when the war is over, as large "theatres of amusement."

MUSIC

There is very little to be said for the music field this first quarter of '43 that wasn't already reported in the last quarter of '42. It is the one and only division of the coin machines industry that is a prominent, national chain. This is the true giant of this business. It is stable. But, it is as yet loose muscled and very blind to its own power. For, if the 400,000 or so coin operated musical instruments were placed together in one national organization they would exert the greatest influence in all American music history. They are, thru lack of national amalgamation, missing the tremendous advantages which this field has over all the others. Prices for late equipment in this field continue to rise sharply. Prices, generally, of all other models are more or less stable and have been so for many months. The only division of this field which seemed to suffer slight reverses was the remote control division. This was more or less due to lack of sufficient cable and supplies. Parts are becoming scarce. Amplifiers, tubes and other units in this category are more difficult to obtain. Yet, the ingenuity of the men engaged in this field seems to have overcome these problems and music, because of its morale building effect and relaxative powers wins greater recognition every day, with the surety that when the war is over it will probably again be the most important division of the trade.

MERCHANDISERS

Cigarette machines continue strong. This is more or less due to the fact that many leading coinmen entered into this field when their territories closed on other equipment. The demand which they created took away all available better merchandisers. Tobacco rationing may come, but, it is believed, it will not seriously affect the major portion of the cigarette machines. These machines, especially if they are in essential locations, will, in all probabilities, be backed by rationing boards. Bulk merchandisers lost out during this first quarter of '43. This was somewhat due to inclement weather all over the country which hurt the outdoor locations. But, more due to the fact that the bulk merchandise itself is becoming much more difficult to obtain each day. Drink vendors of all types jumped into greater prominence. Many of these were forced to change from Coca-Cola to other beverages. But, business is extremely brisk and the collections continued better than ever — many of these selling out completely in shorter time than ever before in their history. There is no doubt now that the drink dispensor field will be tremendously important right after the war for it has gained the attention of many large and powerful manufacturers. Watch this field. Many large firms plan to enter it right after the war. Candy vendors also seemed to get a "lift" during this first quarter of '43. All this can be summed up to the fact that with the tremendous percentage of Americans now at work — the portability of the merchandiser, the fact that it can be located right at point of sale, and the further fact that its speedy, silent salesmanship is extremely necessary these days, have made this a better field than it ever was. It is our prediction that the great majority of the present merchandisers will be rapidly replaced the moment the war is over with the finest equipment this field have ever yet seen.

SLOTS

The slot made its comeback during the last quarter of '42. It gained terrific sales momentum this first quarter of '43. Sales will be even greater in the second and third quarters for whatever of this merchandise is still available. Ingenious rebuilding and new pay action installation as well as dressing up of cabinets made old pieces like new in most instances. Crackle finish, gold chroming, club handles, knee action, 3/5 pay, and other innovations which were only supposed to appear on the later merchandise, have brought much old equipment to the field completely revamped and obtaining formerly unheard of high prices. The slot market is therefore destined to continue extremely active. Also note that there has been very little agitation against slots. Where in former years there were always articles against these in the press, these past 18 months has seen very little national notoriety in this direction. The Federal taxing of slots at $100. per year seemed to have some sort of sanctifying effect. The slot market will therefore hold up. The public likes the machines, regardless of former press reports. The firms in this field have worked carefully and cautiously and haven't been too anxious to rid themselves of merchandise. (Check the Confidential Price Lists to get some idea of slot prices today.)

ONE-BALLS

This was the surprise field of the industry. The late model 1-Balls were so much in demand that they commanded prices for used merchandise far above what they listed as new machines. The field jumped into greater prominence on the daring skill of a very few men thruout the country. The 1-Ball field is not as yet nationally prominent. It never will be so. But, where pins are running without molestation, the 1-Balls gradually creep in and the difference in profits is so great that the coinman would much rather take a chance with a few of these than with an entire route of pins in most cases. Because of the fact that prior to the stoppage of production the 1-Ball field was so very limited across the nation it will continue to be the "scarce" field of this industry. Whatever machines are available command unusually high prices. These prices are bound to go even higher for the demand has not slackened one bit.

PIN-BALL

Most interesting was the rapid revival of this division of the industry. Whereas, even with large numbers of pins glutting the market, due to the fact that the early part of '43 still found much territory closed. The situation rapidly changed for the better before the first quarter of '43 was over. The opening of the entire state of Pennsylvania had a very heartening effect on all the trade. The better games rapidly disappeared. The secondary numbers are being speedily absorbed as territories find that pins earn more under present demand for relaxing play. Even the oldest numbers are now beginning to get action. The revampers helped tremendously. By their ingenious rebuilding they revived a tremendous number of machines which met with general player approval and thereby helped to create a better market. This division of the industry is sure to gain further ground in the second quarter of '43. Pins have again proven themselves especially adaptable to present play conditions and the public's love for them has not diminished one bit. This field will find prices, which have really just started to zoom, going into new high brackets in the second quarter and probably continuing from then on in much more stabilized fashion.

CONSOLES

In our New Year Special issue we maintained that consoles would grow tremendously important as the weeks went by. Not only did this become a fact, but the first quarter of '43 saw the console field reach a peak it had never before enjoyed in all of its history. The better units have become very scarce and prices asked for whatever is left are extremely high. This was bound to happen with the tax ruling what it is. In short, a single slot would pay $100.00 per year and a multiple play console which accommodates anywhere from two to seven players still pays only $100.00 per year. At the same time the console is not as rapidly placed in the slot category in most communities. Therefore, wherever these were allowed to operate the coinman was certainly going to use a combination of 3 or 4 bells in preference to a single bell. Consoles are going even higher. Parts, too, are becoming scarce. This entire field is in a boom which will continue on for the duration from all present viewpoints.

COUNTER GAMES

The distress field of the industry is the counter game division. Many are still operating, but the big market is gone for these profitable little machines. The $100. tax killed these off just as surely as if they had been wiped out by a cyclone. Yet, there are estimated to be approximately 50,000 of these machines in the country that will be gathering dust instead of revenue. The solution that was proposed by The Cash Box sometime ago was for the coinman to place these on location with the patriotic payment of the $100. tax to benefit Uncle Sam and arrange with the location owner that the first $100. to come out of the machine pay this tax. From then on the money would be shared on the regular percentage basis. This is about the one best solution we have yet come across. The arcade counter games will continue strong. The token payout machines, which were the most profitable, will be found in very small quantity. This field is glutted with good equipment and experts are called for to help solve the problem.

OPERATING CONDITIONS

General operating conditions thruout the country because of transfer of huge populations from center to center to accommodate the need for workers in war factories have created new profit centers for the trade. The section that most benefitted so far has been the Pacific Coast where transfer of huge populations has brought on the greatest boom this section has ever known. The operators are continuing with shortage of mechanical help the most outstanding problem. Overhead has tremendously increased. Take has gone away up. Averages now being reported are higher than they ever were in history. From one end of the country to the other the industry is in a marvelous boom period with the assurance that this boom is even getting greater. Whether the trade will be able to outlast the loss of labor and continue on the same basis of operation is one of its greatest problems. The present staffs are rapidly being depleted even of the smaller operators. The problem of commissions is next in line to take care of loss of approximately 300,000 retail locations this year, a great many of which will be coin machine locations, also increased overhead and generally increased costs in all divisions of the operating set-up. Commission should be 30% to the average location. A National Board of Trade should be created. Operators should be more careful, more conservative and more cautious than they ever have been before. The trade needs national leadership as well as hard work at this time to win favor for the future.

"PREDICTIONS OF THINGS TO COME"

INTERNATIONAL

Tho the coin machines industry was gradually assuming international prominence as an industry, prior to the war, because of larger and still larger exports, it will really reach an internationally important stage within a few years after the war is over. Equipment will reach far into Asia and Europe. This will create an international exchange of machines which may bring about some export problems. But, the exchange of equipment on an international basis will be so well financed, not only by American but by foreign bankers, that it promises to wield a mighty influence in international commerce. Samples will be shipped by air routes now being charted and tested by international airlines. Complete shipments will be made with a speed that will amaze those now engaged in this industry. Sales action in China, India, Australia, England, France, Russia and many other countries will be within the same speed ratio as American methods. South America, by adoption of certain hard coinage, will become one of the mightiest markets for this industry.

FINANCE

During '40, '41 and '42, this industry saw the entrance of much new and powerful finance, mainly concentrated in the music and merchandiser market. This will be but a drop in the bucket to what will be placed into this field generally when the war is over. With large, international bankers already casting interested eyes this way, there is no doubt that by their influence they will arrange for entire countries to accept equipment and the profit from financing as well as distributing and operating will prove greater than even they dream. It will help make the coin machines industry one of the greatest in all the amusement fields and thereby create a new sales and manufacturing action that has never before been enjoyed in this business. It is well to remember that financiers do not need the help of the average man in this business. They have their own methods of operation. They will, no doubt, exact greater profits with less effort than will anyone else in this business.

EQUIPMENT

Everyone concerned with this industry wonders what equipment will look like after the war. Just to think that the present line of manufacturers (or those last known prominently to this industry) will return with modifications of the machines we know at present, wouldn't be rightful thinking on the part of anyone who reads what tremendous and progressive strides have been made by all manufacturers so far in this war. A great many discoveries and short cuts which have come about will effect the equipment which will be produced in the future. We lived in a ground-hog age. We are going to enter into the eagle-age. People will be thinking in terms of air-space - not ground-space. This change in human outlook will mean new equipment to attract these people. The returned soldier with a mechanical-bent, which he learned in this highly technical war, will want something to test his technical skill before he is even attracted to it. Therefore, equipment is sure to be of a more technical nature. The childish sort of "toy-games" which we now know are probably out. More intricate mechanisms will appear. Ideas which we cannot as yet express, but, which we, ourselves, have created thru our demand for more and still more highly complex machines of war will eventually be worked out into coin operated equipment. Think of a man accustomed to being brain-taxed by highly technical equipment attracted to something that has absolutely not one iota of skill attached to it. Such equipment won't bring him to it even as an interested spectator. Most of the first equipment which will be produced will probably be patterned after the latest machines of war. Just as our soldiers and sailors now get after the ray guns (for they have become accustomed to these from the training they have received) so will they want to handle something to test their skill upon which they were formerly skilled. The same is true of all equipment progression. There will therefore be a complete and revolutionary turn in the equipment field which will change the entire operating picture.

SALES

With the development of larger and new type markets there will also be a complete revolution in the sales picture. Just what turn this will take will depend entirely upon the cost of the equipment that will be produced. There is no doubt tho, that the new equipment will be costly. Because of this the manufacturers will want to be better assured of sales quotas. No more gambling chances on what can be sold thruout the country. If one avenue of merchandising cannot accomodate the necessary volume that is required another will be forthcoming to take over. Therefore, the picture from the sales standpoint will revolutionize itself by the progression which it has already shown. Factory agencies will arise thruout the country with quota set-ups. Other distribution factors will play an important part in the sales action. Direct public appeals will also be put forth in the future sales programs to get the basic market into action so that demand will be created for the eventual purchase of the equipment. This will mean sales organizations acquainted with and geared to complete merchandising and sales promotion understanding of all fields. Many, many changes are coming about in this division of the field which will be truly surprising in their scope.

FACTORY MUSIC

Some months ago The Cash Box was first to report on the findings of Prof. Harold Burris-Meyer of Stevens Institute of Technology regarding the fact that music in factories stimulated production and increased it as much as 11%. Prior to that we also reported on the factory music story which had appeared in Forbes' Magazine and which later appeared in condensed version in Reader's Digest. Factories make marvelous locations for 10 and 12 record phonos. Rentals should start at $10.00 per week and an additional $1.00 per week for each auxiliary speaker over two or three placed about the plant. It is necessary that the music operator be extremely careful locating auxiliary speakers so that they can be heard above the noise of the machinery. Capable sound engineers should be consulted. "Scores of plants are using music as a stimulus today", reports The New York Times Magazine, March 14, 1943, "and psychologists and production experts have gone so far as to lay out rhythym patterns for daily programs."

---

THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM WAS FOUND EFFECTIVE IN THE BAYONNE,N.J. PLANT OF WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC & MFG. CO. (TIMES ARE BASED ON THE WORKING HOURS OF THE FIRST SHIFT).

7:00 A.M. - BAND MARCHES TO START THE DAY

9:00 A.M. - POPULAR CLASSICS AND WALTZES

10:15 A.M. - WHEN FATIGUE FIRST SETS IN, POPULAR TUNES WITH STRONG RHYTHYM, BUT NO JAZZ, NO MUSHY VOCALS, NO INSTRUMENT SOLOS

11:00 A.M. - LUNCH HOUSE - MIXED CONCERT FOR RELAXATION

12:45 P.M. - POPULAR CLASSICS WITH GOOD RHYTHYM

2:15 P.M. - LIVLEY POPULAR TUNES WITH STRONG RHYTHYM TO COUNTERACT END-OF-SHIFT FATIGUE

3:30 P.M. - NEW SHIFT ENTERS - BAND MARCHES AGAIN

---

HERE'S THE PROGRAM THAT APPEARED IN "THE NEW YORK TIMES MAGAZINE"

7:00 A.M. - "THE STARS AND STRIPES FOREVER"
(Punching the time clock to the stirring tune of a jaunty, martial air)

9:15 A.M. - "STAR DUST"
(Amellow rhythym at this mid-morning hour helps dispel fatigue)

11:00 A.M. - "MR. FIVE BY FIVE"
(During the lunch hour, workers relax with the aid of a new hit)

1:00 P.M. - "THE NUT CRACKER"
(Rhythmic music similar to that played at 9 o'clock is recommended for workers)

2:00 P.M. - "PRAISE THE LORD AND PASS THE AMMUNITION"
(A catchy wartime tune helps to speed up work on the vital Home Front)

3:10 P.M. - "MY DEVOTION"
(Just before quitting time the first shift workers like a musical "pick-me-up")

3:30 P.M. - "THE A RMY AIR CORPS"
(The first shift ends the day's work with another martial tune)

NOTICE:- Use the above outlined musical programs in soliciting factory locations. We felt this of sufficient importance to replace our regular listings of records.

IMPORTANT

The Confidential Price Lists are to be read as follows: First price listed is lowest price for the week; Second price listed is highest price for the week; Where only one price appears this should be considered lowest price.

Many times, wide differences appear in the high and low prices of certain equipment. Like any true reporter The Confidential Price Lists can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. The Confidential Price Lists act exactly the same as the market quotation board at the Stock Exchange—posting the prices exactly as they are quoted for each week, regardless of how much they may seem to be out of line. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price for the week, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the subscriber at least has the last known quoted prices as a basis to work with. Prices continue to be very widely divergent these days. Someone on the West Coast may feel a certain machine worth $150.00 whereas someone on the East Coast may think it worth but $75.00. Of course, condition, serial, appearance, demand, territory, quantity, etc., must all be taken into consideration. The Confidential Price Lists report each quotation exactly as it is made and depend on the subscriber to make average price adjustment to fit the peculiarities of his own territory.
